Selectmen's Meeting

SEPTEMBER 3, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL
MATTAPOISETT RIVER TESTING SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Selectmen expressed pleasure at the announcement from the Board of Health on the latest results of water samples taken from the Mattapoisett River, as reported by letter from Evelyn A. Ellis, chairman, who said the results are much more encouraging.

"The river at Crooks Way is down from 335 per 100/million to 140 per 100/parts per million, and Tinkham Lane is now 106 per 100/parts per million, which is much below the earlier count of over 1600 per 100/parts per million.

"We believe the lower counts are due to improved testing methods allowing samples to be taken from the center of the river, rather than the edge where water does not move as free.

"Although the counts have improved, this does not mean that our investigation is over. Further testing, and inspecting of the storm drains will be done."

CONSTABLE APPOINTED

Because of the emergency of the situation of the town being without a shellfish constable, the board appointed Brian D. Nunes as the new constable, effective immediately. The former constable, Al Pauline, resigned recently after seven years on the job.

There were two candidates for the position. The second was George J. Caton, who is also the town dog officer. Caton outlined his background as being familiar with planting seed, small boat operation and that he has a commercial quahog license. He said he has partial experience, but that Pauline has said he would help him prepare for the work.

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta expressed the board's feelings when he said Nunes was selected because of his extensive background in the natural resources field and that he had worked with Pauline in the past with transplanting.

Nunes, age 32 and a graduate of Old Rochester Regional High School, worked 10 years with the State Department of Natural Resources, spending 99 percent of his time with the public. When asked by Selectman Frank Suzan how he would deal with the public, Nunes said, "I feel you have to be a diplomat - you can get more flies with honey than with vinegar".

Because of his background and previous experience, Selectmen voted to pay Nunes at Grade Level 6, Step 3, starting at $234.96 per week. They noted Caton will be given the opportunity to serve as a deputy shellfish warden when needed.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH RICK MITCHELL of the Arts Lottery Council who outlined revised projects for "Art's Alive - '85". Mitchell said the plans have undergone some changes because of the difficulty in obtaining space in buildings to hold events. Rather than a one-day event they are planning two smaller "happenings" to take place on consecutive weekends.

On Saturday, September 28th, at 3:00 p.m. at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Parish Hall there will be a performance by the Bennington Puppets for children and adults. On Sunday, September 29th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Church parish hall two local

were much appreciated. Mitchell said there made for more events in the Spring of 1986.

RECEIVED A LETTER from Alan and Janis Johnson, 29 Water Street, citing several problems in the area following the teen lems such as squealing brakes, loud noise, obscene language and littering. Selectmen

APPROVED A REQUEST from Sylvia Ouimet and Dorothy Lewis, co-chairmen for St. Jude's Bike-a-Thon, to use the following roads during the proposed race on October 6th. They include Water Street to Marion Road, Pine Island Road onto Prospect Road, Angelica Avenue and then returning.

The approval was contingent on the group working with the police department to ensure there will be no traffic problems.

MET WITH Marie Bourden and Mary Fish regarding flooding on Marine Drive. Mrs. Bourden said the problem has existed for some time and not just during the recent torrential rainstorms.

Selectman James F. Huntoon told the residents that two years ago someone from the street, which is a private one, brought in a petition to make it a town road, but all residents of the road did not sign the petition. He added that all residents living on the road must sign the petition or it cannot be taken to a town meeting. "No way can we expend town funds to make a road public - this must be done through legal steps", said Huntoon. He recommended they speak to their neighbors and seek legal counsel.

ALSO MET WITH Janice Wagner of Brookside Drive, who complained about the drainage of water onto her property since the neighboring homeowner built their house and landscaped their property.

Ms. Wagner repeatedly asked members of the board and David Crook, building inspector, if there is a town provision that permits a person to build as high as they want to even if it goes over the adjoining property.

Her answer was no, according to by-law building regulations. Selectman Huntoon said the matter is a legal and moral obligation of the builder to put drainage in so as not to cause a hardship on the abutter. Huntoon added, unfortunately you have to go out and spend money to protect yourself from irresponsible builders.

held Wednesday, September 11th, at Gaetano's Restaurant. The social hour will begin at 6 p.m. with dinner served promptly at 7:00. Guest speaker for the meeting will be Carl Schulz, systems processing manager for AT&T Communications, who will discuss choices consumers will have regarding their long distance telephone service.

Those long distance choices are being made available in a program called "equal access" which is the result of the court-approved breakup agreement between AT&T and the Department of Justice.

Under the program the local telephone company is making changes to its equipment to allow all long distance companies to be connected in the same manner as AT&T is today.

When "equal access" becomes available, customers who have chosen a company other than AT&T will only have to dial "1" plus the area code and phone number to make a long distance call outside of the 617 area.

However, a recent Federal Communications Commission ruling changed the assignment procedure the local telephone company uses with customers who do not actively select a long distance company.

Instead of automatically assigning customers to remain with AT&T, under the new rules they will be randomly allocated to any one of the long distance companies competing in their area.

Center from September 13 through October 2. Eleanor Heywood Norris presently has her studio in Ipswich, Massachusetts where she primarily works in watercolor. Her subjects include coastal scenes of beaches and marshes. Ms. Norris is a cum laude graduate of Emmanuel College and the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts. She has been an active professional artist for more than a decade and has exhibited in numerous galleries in the northeast.

John Black is a painter and printmaker from Gloucester, Massachusetts. A graduate of Massachusetts College of Art and Syracuse University, Mr. Black has exhibited widely in the New York and New England areas. Landscape is of primary interest to this artist. Buildings, boats, rocks and woodland are interpreted with rhythm and movement in his oils and silk screen prints. As an artist-educator, John Black has recently completed a series of teaching videotapes for cable television entitled "The Art Experience". He also conducts printmaking workshops.

Both artists present beautiful depictions of coastal towns, shorelines and farmlands of New England. The show opens on Friday, September 13th, from 6 to 8 p.m. with a wine and cheese reception and an opportunity to meet the artists.

summer success of the Zeiterion production of "A Chorus Line". Settings and costumes are being imported from New York and acting and choral talents will be culled from the complete staffs of our tri-town educational systems. This production will mark a unique milestone of cooperation, with proceeds going to the Old Rochester School District Scholarship Fund. That is certainly the most worthy cause our educators could augment to their own daily teaching talents and abilities.

This special occasion is a reason for great anticipation and all-out support from all our communities, and those beyond, seeking an evening of New York-style theater. Set aside those dates for the whole family, to enjoy this monumental holiday event.

Westport Historical Society

"THE HISTORY OF RADIO"

"The History of Radio" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Westport Historical Society member George Gray Thursday evening, September 20th, at Alumni Hall in the Bell Schoolhouse, 25 Drift Road, Head of Westport.

Working in many phases of radio broadcasting since 1929, Mr. Gray has served as announcer, news director, and salesman for several stations, including a stint at WORL in Boston where he was executive vice-president and general manager.

During the 1940's he pioneered the use of taped actuality inserts in newscasts with his wife, Charlotte, serving as engineer. In the late 40's the Grays also worked together producing a husband/wife show, "George and Charlotte over the Coffee Cups". Since 1963 Mr. Gray has been owner and general manager of New Bedford Radio Station WBSM.

A brief business meeting for members of the society will precede Mr. Gray's talk. Members are invited to attend the program. There will be a one dollar admission charge for the non-members. Refreshments will be served.

dances is the theme of a two-hour show that will be presented at Southeastern Massachusetts University on Monday, September 23rd.

Performing in the China Night Show are students from various colleges of Taiwan, Republic of China, who are touring the United States on a youth goodwill mission.

The curtain gong will sound in the SMU auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free and seating will be on a first-come served basis. When the group was here in 1978, the auditorium was filled to capacity and 200 had to be turned away due to fire regulations. The public should park in lots four and five.

In addition to Chinese folk songs and dances, the show will feature gorgeous costumes, typical Chinese musical instruments, and genuine kung fu.

"It promises to be an evening of fun and exposure to Chinese culture that is rarely seen in southeastern Massachusetts," says Professor D.N. Wu, SMU coordinator of the event. "The public is encouraged to attend this unique entertainment."

The tour is sponsored by the Taiwan Television Corporation to promote cultural interflow and mutual understanding with Ameri-

at the hospital in Wareham on the subject of "Perinatal Coaching". The perinatal coach is the person who trains the new mother and father in the skills of communicating with their baby. All area human services' professionals are welcome to attend.

The primary goal of the perinatal coaching program is to develop patterns of interaction and to improve communication systems between new parents and their first-born infants. The basic premise upon which this program has been developed is that most new parents have limited understanding of the methods used to communicate with their first-born infant and are inexperienced in the skills required to implement such a communication system.

The workshop will be conducted by Martha W. Bristor, R.N., Ph.D., from the College of Human Ecology, Department of Family and Child Ecology at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan.

The training program is designed for human services' professionals who wish to increase their understanding and awareness of new issues in the treatment and prevention of child abuse and neglect.

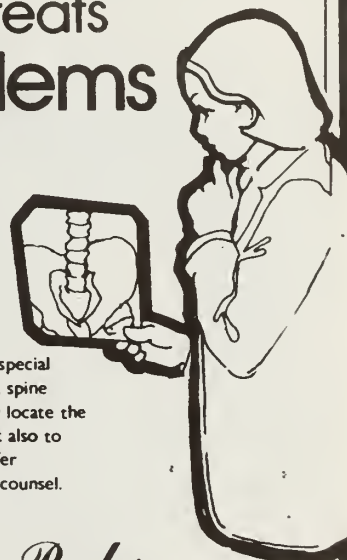

Although no admission fee is required, the workshop will be limited to no more than 50 participants. Reservations may be made by calling the Marion Center for Human Services, 335 Wareham Street, Marion, MA. at

Here's how Chiropractic treats Back Problems

Persistent or recurring aches in the lower back and limbs may suggest a possible lower spinal or pelvic problem. This often requires a structural correction of the cause in order to relieve the condition. Although drugs may hide the pain temporarily, the spine and sacroiliac must be aligned to their proper position for normal function.

The doctor of chiropractic has made a special study of conditions related to the sacroiliac, spine and nervous system. She seeks to not only locate the problem and give relief from symptoms, but also to correct the fundamental cause as well as offer preventive, rehabilitation, and maintenance counsel.

Lloyd Center

TO LEASE FORMER CHILDREN'S MUSEUM PROPERTY

For the past year there has been a good deal of concern as to the future of the property at 100 Old Westport Road, Dartmouth, formerly the Children's Museum/Museum Outdoors. At one time it was thought that this five acre oasis for wildlife and flowers would be developed, but due to the efforts of Renaissance, a limited partnership located in New Bedford, and the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, we can all look forward to many years of enjoyment and education programs using this site. The Lloyd Center, beginning in September will be leasing the property and buildings and will be renovating the buildings and maintaining and improving the trail system.

Renaissance acquired the property from the Children's Museum after the Museum had moved to its new location in South Dartmouth. The availability and potential uses of the property were brought to the attention of Renaissance by the Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust which owned and operated the Lloyd Center at that time. With the intention that the property be preserved in as natural a state as possible and in keeping with the wishes of Mr. Raymond A. Petty who was the last private owner, Renaissance has worked with the Lloyd Center to develop plans for the use of the buildings and grounds.

According to Robert Pielech, Renaissance Treasurer and spokesperson, "Renaissance purchased this property for the purposes of conserving one of the few open spaces left in North Dartmouth which is easily accessible for all residents. These five acres are very special to us, just as they were to Mr. Petty who worked to create a haven for wildlife, a unique collection of native and imported vegetation and a feeding station for wintering bird life. We feel that the Lloyd Center is especially qualified to carry out our wishes to maintain the property in a natural state and yet provide educational programs and trails for the public to learn from and enjoy."

The Children's Museum developed a trail system on the property and set up several bird feeding and nesting stations. The Lloyd Center, with its track record of developing and yet not degrading the 55 acres which it manages at 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, has been very enthusiastic in its response to the offer of Renaissance to work as partners in continuing this effort to make the Homestead a model back-yard bird sanctuary and model flower garden. A comprehensive, long range plan for the property is being developed by the Lloyd Center to manage and maintain the diversity and beauty of the site.

We learn to speak and to write, not because we intend to become orators or novelists, but because speaking and writing are necessary for getting along in modern, civilized life. So we should learn to dance - not only to become professionals - but also because in dance schools we develop poise, confidence, creative expression, cultural appreciation - and these qualities have become just as important as writing and speaking in today's cultivated society.

Another benefit of the Lloyd Center having a location in North Dartmouth is the potential for cooperation with Southeastern Massachusetts University's Center for Excellence in Marine Science. As this program takes shape it is hoped that additional cooperative ventures between the Lloyd Center and SMU will emerge, providing opportunities for SMU students and faculty and for interns, researchers and educators from the Lloyd Center to work together to solve coastal management problems.

The arrangement between Renaissance and the Lloyd Center will be a lease for use of the facilities and grounds. The Center will need to generate income for the lease, to maintain the property and to improve the facilities. An anonymous donation of $10,000 will partially cover the first year expenses. Donations made to the Lloyd Center for the benefit of the Homestead are not only tax deductible but will be matched $2.00 for every $1.00 donated due to a challenge gift from Karen Lloyd. FALL FLORA TOPIC OF WEEKLY WALK

Fall Flora is the topic of an upcoming Weekly Walk at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies on Sunday, September 15th, from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Diminishing day length induces several wildflower species to bloom, most notably many of the golden-rods and asters. During this afternoon session, the group will learn the characteristics of these two flower groups, what features to look for and how to use a key for identification.

There is no charge for this session, thanks to support of the Weekly Walk series from Marianne Macdonald Real Estate, Inc..

Please call the Center at 990-0505 to register.

In 1951 he left the lithograph company to become a free-lance illustrator. During this period he studied under Peter Helck, Robert Brackman and Guy Wiggins, all of the National Academy. I have not been affected by many modern trends; to me art should be the searching for beauty and truth. I seek beauty in a time when many are afraid to admit it, fearing they will be termed 'square' and out of step with their time.
